Lesterville Items.

The Blacksmith shop of Frank Parker is now open for business, Frank having secured the services of his brother, Arthur, until such time as he is able to attend to his business himself, which we hope will be soon.

The measles seem to be claiming new victims right along, and among the latest to succumb are three employees of the White & Hummel Mfg. Co's. Long Branch mill, Richard Short, Wilson Harrison and Willard Goggin. We also understand that Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Johnston, of Monterey, are victims.

Mrs. Laura Davis, who has been for some time at Chicago Heights, Ill., is at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. A. White.

The interloper comet, which has been astonishing the astronomers of the country, has been seen by a large number of our citizens, most of whom, like others through the country, mistook it for Haley's, which was said to be due at about this time.

An article appeared in the last issue of the REGISTER, purporting to have been written by a "school-boy" of Lesterville, but which shows the handwork of an older, if not a wiser head. This article consisted of a lot of senseless slang, intended to impress your correspondent with the disgrace which he should feel for having been born in the north. The first thought of your correspondent was to ignore it entirely, but as it might place him in an erroneous light before the best element of the people here, whose good will he courts, he thought best to lightly touch upon it, though he will not fall so low in his own esteem as to utter any vulgar, slangy personalities. Your correspondent does not pose as one who is trying to reform Missouri, or even Lesterville, and the effusion of "School-boy" is the first intimation he had that the state needed reforming, for it certainly seems to him to be a pretty good state as it is. Your correspondent has never attempted to write anything in the way of Lesterville items, except actual occurrences, as seen by him, or as reported to him from authentic sources. He has also refrained at all times from personalities, even the mention of names would have been a matter of news. Your correspondent also hopes that the desire of the Lesterville school-boys "to learn, and to grow up to be intelligent and useful men" will be fulfilled, and stands ready at all times to lend a helping hand towards that end. For one thing your correspondent wishes to thank the grown-up "School-boy," and that is for saying that your correspondent is not like the Aurora-Borealis, which, we are told by a great poet, "disappears you can find its place." Your correspondent's location can be easily found, and he is not thinking of flitting, but will continue to report the occurrences of this section, as he sees them, "without fear or favor."

Obituary.

James C. Vance died at his home near Roselle, Madison county, Mo., on the 9th day of January, 1910. He was born September 22d, 1844, in Madison county, Mo., and spent his life in the county of his nativity.

He united in marriage with Miss Margaret C. Gardener July 23d, 1868. To this union nine children were born—four sons and five daughters. Two of the children predeceased the father over the River of Death.

Bro. Vance joined the Baptist church known by the name of Bethany, in his early life, and continued in its fellowship till called from his earthly labors. He has long been one of the pillars of his church, and will be greatly missed by the membership. His Christian walk and upright life, through so many long years of toil for the cause of the master, is proof of his fidelity to the cause he loved. His sterling honesty and many business methods have never been questioned by any one who knew him.

Besides his wife and children, he leaves a large number of relatives and friends to mourn his loss; but we mourn not as those who have no hope. Faith says that in the sweet by-and-by the disconsolate companion and childless will meet him over on the other shore.

Bro. Vance had for many years been in bad health, but by his industry and economy has ever provided a bountiful living for his loved ones, and leaves his dear companion well provided for in her old and infirm days. But the greatest heritage left to his loved ones is the good example of his upright, Christian life.

His funeral was conducted by the writer, at Bethany church, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. Text: Rev. 14:13, reading, "I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, write blessed is the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their work do follow them." After which the body was laid to rest in the old Bethany cemetery.

Felt in the heart and in the home A place no charm can fill, Father's gone, we are left alone, Our loneliness to feel.

Lesterville Ripples.

Ed. Register—Please allow as a few lines in your interesting paper. Sunday was a gloomy and somewhat lonesome day.

There are several cases of measles around town, but all are improving.

Mr. Frank Parker, who has been visiting relatives in Bellevue, has returned home. Mr. Parker is in very poor health.

Lesterville school is progressing nicely and we are indeed very sorry that it is so near a close for this term, there being only fifteen more days.

Mrs. Dora Shy, who has been visiting her sister in St. Louis, returned Sunday.

Mrs. Ola January and Mrs. Ada Rayfield are callers in Centerville this week.

A certain young lady has been all frowns for several months, but think her frowns will be changed to smiles as he is coming south soon. He is growing tired of the far north.

Mr. Jas. Faulkenberry, county surveyor, has been surveying in the lower end of the county.

Ernest Johnson and Horace Chadbourne spent Saturday and Sunday at Monterey.

Ernest Weeks spent Sunday at Redford.

Mrs. John Mills, who has been ill for several weeks, is improving fast.

Wilbur Miller, who has been in St. Louis for the past two months, returned home last week.

Henry White, who has been visiting in Wisconsin for the past month, returned recently.

If this escapes the waste-basket, we will call again in the near future.

BLUE BIRD.

20 Years With Heart Trouble

"Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has cured me of heart disease of over 20 years' standing. I was so bad that I could not do my work, and could scarcely draw a full breath without fainting or smothering. The doctor told me he could do no more for me; then I commenced taking the Heart Remedy. I shall never forget that night. I slept better than I had before in months. I kept right on getting better, until I was perfectly well."

MRS. LAURA RUSSELL,

Logan, Iowa.

When the heart action is weak, it fails to pump the blood through the lungs with sufficient rapidity. Then the lungs do not absorb the proper amount of oxygen, although they may be taking in a normal amount of air. The result is shortness of breath, smothering spells, difficult breathing, oppressed feeling in chest. Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, and in this way increases the circulation.
